MISSION

Sincere Visions aims to make people purposefully uncomfortable and aware of social injustices and to uplift community through the presentation of unbiased information that challenges and transforms how we perceive and respond to one another.

ABOUT

Sincere Visions is a San Francisco based documentary film and photography production company. Founded in 2011, Lydia T. Blanco was challenged to transform her anger into activism through documenting everyday life. Sincere Visions lens focuses on community issues and cultural enrichment by uncovering stories that might not otherwise be heard, told, or seen.

UPCOMING PROJECTS

- Evictions and Gentrification
- Post Traumatic Stress in the Black Community
- Hunger in America
